As I close my eyes
i feel your breath
it sends chills to my toes it flushes heat through my heart and head and it grows i want to melt into you as your fire bites my neck i fight falling to my knees (too soon) basking in your presence begging you; pleading you please

i want to acquiesce i want to give in i wan to fall to your feet when i have no other choice but sin

i love losing my will it fills me with peace it is the only choice i choose;
it's what completes me

my loins surge turgid bringing on the rain i love all that you give love, passion, power, dominance and pain in the days that come i see blue, black and red the moments are visceral, visual, indelible with your scent in my bed

i can live in memories but memories can miss so light my fire, wet my desire, feed my bliss with your kiss
